List and description of the icon in AIS

 = confirmation, saving of realized operations in the current window

 = the selected application exit and return to the main menu of AIS

 = data print, as shown on the screen

 = data export from the screen into Excel.

 = renewing the screen content

 = saving of all settings in the layout of columns and display on the screen or in other applications that have this icon.

 = filter for more specific selection of data

 = adding

 = data updating

 = data insight

 = delete

 = the offer of the other output data for the user from the screen

 = the offer of the other output data for printing the data from the screen

 = confirmation and a command for loading and display of the selected filter (if you display several windows, it is necessary to filter the required data from the upper window to the lower window)

i = by this confirmation other icons are displayed.

The first from the left = offers a list of columns displayed in the application that the user can compile according to his requirements for viewing.

The user by checking or unchecking the box determines which columns he wants to have displayed on the screen.
To set the order of displayed columns, it is necessary to mark the selected line, from offered columns, by clicking on this line and with arrows (up - down) to move the marked line into the selected placement.
In this way you arrange the display in order for example.:Surname, First name, Maiden surname, Year, Study program .....
After the columns´ arrangement in the selection "the table setting," by clicking on the icon confirmation you convert the display into the main window, which you permanently save by clicking on the icon to save the settings in the main screen.

The second from the left = allows to select the order of data filtering in the running application.

The third from the left = marks the start line in the current displayed selection.

The fourth from the left = marks the last line in the current displayed selection.

The fifth from the left = moves the markings to the very beginning of the list.

The six from the left = moves the markings to the very end of the list.

Important

To always display the same settings after logging on into the AIS, it is important to remember to save your settings in the upper menu of the whole window.